

PHILOSOFI

60 min modeling & acting consultation with sofia belhouari

With over a decade of experience in modeling, acting, and working around the world, I am passionate about offering industry insights and guidance to those interested in modeling and the fashion industry. I've successfully helped numerous individuals secure agency contracts for both acting and modeling, leading to opportunities with major brands, commercials, and network television.

During this 60-minute general consultation, we'll discuss your interests and current progress, while I provide personalized feedback and actionable steps to help you move closer to your goals. We'll talk more in depth about working in the industry, contracts, working with multiple agents, style, movement, and the differences between lifestyle, editorial, and e-commerce modeling.
